Generations, grandparents honoured

By VICKI BROOKER
Review Staff

More than 20 four and five-generation families were honoured for their commitment to the community on Sunday at Elk Point's annual Grandparents' Day celebration, with Minister of Infrastructure Ray Danyluk on hand to present certificates to families who, along with their descendants, have remained in the area through the generations.

Danyluk joked that, "I now feel legitimate when I come to Grandparents' Day," as he now has four grandchildren. "This is a special day for all grandchildren, they are critically important to their grandparents, and that goes both ways. If it weren't for my grandparents, I wouldn't be here (in this community) either."

As he prepared to hand out certificates on behalf of the province, Danyluk noted, "It is so special to have fourth and fifth generation families. Thank you ever so much for being a part of our community."

The families of Norma and Leonard Berg, Julia and William Pankiw, Mary and Joe Vogel, Mary and Mike Habiak, Hazel and Bruce Hannah, Margaret and Lawrence Modin, Lois and Walter Yaremkevich, Horace and Emma Osinchuk, Pauline and Mike Kadutski, Ross and Peggy Maas, Pearl and Rolf Anderson, Irene Melin, Fae and Morris Irvine and Vicki and Don Brooker were honoured during the ceremony, while the families of Judy and John Ockerman, Mary and Neil Nelson, Jean and Bill Lesyk, Kay and Mike Warawa, Ann and John Capjack, Gene and Bill Russell, Mary and Lloyd Poitras and Joyce and Lawrence Waltze will receive their certificates later, as they were not in attendance.

Deanna Easthope had an extra gift for nine families who supplied her with genealogical information, in the form of a four-generation pedigree chart, which she said "is only the beginning. You need to write your history down. It's really an exciting thing to do, and my door is still open if any other families want to do this." She presented a book by Lloydminster author Hazel Litgus, "Where the Meadowlark Sang," about pioneer farm life, to Norma Berg, the oldest person who turned in genealogical information.

Minister of Infrastructure Ray Danyluk congratulated Peggy Maas and her family, including daughter Donna Gulayec and granddaughters Denise Napier and Chantelle Hammond and their children on their family's many years in the community.

Frog Lake celebrates new arena

By SHAUNA BURKE

The residents of Frog Lake First Nation celebrated the grand opening of their new multi-purpose hockey arena and administration building on Friday.

Greg Carter, director of operations, welcomed everyone to the Grand Opening Ceremony on behalf of Chief and council of Frog Lake First Nation.

"It is with great pride that we are able to open this new building and modern facility today. Chief and council would like to honour the past twelve terms of chief and council along with the elders for their vision, guidance and leadership in making this magnificent day a reality," said Carter.

The cost of the building is approximately $14.5 million and was financed through the Royal Bank of Canada and a number of agencies. The completion of the building not only represents a thriving Frog Lake community but also the progress of organizations working together to achieve a common goal, Carter said.

"I know it is only a matter of time before I am announcing the first NHL player from Frog Lake with an arena like this," said Rod Black, a Canadian sports announcer who was also the master of ceremonies. "Facilities like this are for the children."

Retired NHL hockey player Bryan Trottier also attended the ceremony to offer his congratulations on the completion of the facility. As a player, Trottier won six Stanley Cups with the New York Islanders and Pittsburgh Penguins. He won another Stanley Cup as an assistant coach with the Colorado Avalanche.

"People often ask me if I am part Indian and I reply no I am part white," joked Trottier at the ceremony. He said the new hockey arena complex impressed him and that the people of Frog Lake had every reason to be proud.

INFORMATION SUBMITTED

Elk Point Minor Hockey has announced their September cash calendar winners: Janice Braden (Lethbridge), Jay and Jeanny Duffee, Ann Gulayec, Cathy Ockerman, Jackie Ludlage, Morris Irvine, Orin Ockerman, Tania Bourne, Tina Campbell ($100 winner), Wade Poitras, Shirley Lefebvre (St. Paul), Nick Jacula (Vermilion), Lila Pynten (Heinsburg) and Raymond Scott.

Crime Watch information

The Rural Crime Watch booth was one of the busiest sites at last Tuesday's Information Night at the Elk Point Arts and Leisure Centre. A constant stream of visitors stopped by to find out more about becoming extra eyes and ears for the local RCMP, in hopes of curbing crime in the area, with a number taking the opportunity to sign up as members.

Checkstop nabs man wanted on warrants

By Cst. S. SPAANS

Elk Point RCMP

On Saturday, Sept. 3, members of the Elk Point RCMP conducted an Alberta Checkstop on Highway 646, just outside of Elk Point. One of the vehicles stopped in the Checkstop was found to have a driver on outstanding warrants for no insurance and having a suspended driver's license. The male driver was also driving a vehicle that did not have current insurance and did not have a valid license. The driver was issued additional violation tickets for those offenses and given a future court date.

Distracted Driving law

On Sept. 1, a new diving law was enacted within the province of Alberta. This new law applies to drivers of vehicles on all roadways, unless off the highway or legally parked. The new law prohibits drivers from using handheld cell phones, texting or emailing, using electronic devices like laptop computers, video games, cameras, video entertainment displays and programmable audio players such as MP3 players, entering information on GPS units, reading printed materials, writing, printing or sketching and personal grooming. The fine for the new law is 172 with no demerits. Additional information on the new laws can be found on the Government of Alberta website.

New school year

A new year for area students has begun and thus motorists are reminded of the school zone speed limits. The speed limit in a school zone is 30 km/hr unless otherwise posted, and is in effect on school days between the hours of 8 a.m. to 9:30 p.m., 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. and 3:00 p.m. to 4:30 p.m./ Speed limits in a playground zone are 30 km/hr unless otherwise posted and are in effect between the hours of 8:30 a.m. until one hour after sunset. Vehicles are not permitted to pass another vehicle traveling in the same direction during the hours in effect for school or playground zones.

Impaired driving

On Sept. 3, Elk Point RCMP received a complaint of a possible intoxicated driver in the town of Elk Point. Patrols were conducted and a vehicle matching the description given was located. A single male was located within the vehicle and found to be exhibiting signs of intoxication at that time. The male was arrested for impaired driving and brought to the Elk Point Detachment for further investigation. The adult male then provided samples of his breath and the results showed that the male was nearly three times over the legal limit for alcohol consumption for a driver of a motor vehicle. That male now faces several charges in relation to impaired driving.

Lorraine Quinney claims second Diamond Drillbit win

Third annual success for oil industry women's golf tournament

By VICKI BROOKER

Review Staff

Lorraine Quinney claimed her second consecutive Diamond Drillbit Golf Tournament win on Saturday, as 60 women connected to the resource industry enjoyed a day of fun and competition at the Elk Point Golf and Country Club.

Quinney added up a 48 in the first round and a 43 in the second for a 91 total score, to finish just one stroke ahead of Jenny Bourassa in the tournament's First Flight. Brenda Kinsella placed third with a 98.

Two of the tournament's organizers led the second flight, with Wanda Cochrane placing first, Shaina Gadowski second and Gillian Cousins third.

Other winners were:

Third Flight - 1. Brandy Krankowsky, 2. Kali Cousins, 3. Dayna Gadwa.

Fourth Flight - 1. Lauren Blanchette, 2. Penny Quinney, 3. Katy Clevenger.

Fifth Flight - 1. Coreen Batdorf, 2. Jessica Lameman, 3. Lisa Fortin.

Sixth Flight - 1. Cassia Krankowsky, 2. Brenda Poitras, 3. Felina DeMoissac.

Seventh Flight - 1. Bonnie Fairbairn, 2. Stacey Fontaine, 3. Noreen Cameron.

Eighth Flight - 1. Sharla Eliuk, 2. Jessica Lee, 3. Doris Pindroch.

Ninth Flight - 1. Elesha Lehr, 2. Tracy Hardes, 3. Melissa Seemayer.

Robyn Moroziuk, one of the Elk Point Oilmen's Association members who helped with the tournament, presented a special prize to Susan MacKinnon. He also handed over $144 in tip money from the refreshment hole as a donation toward the tournament.

The final presentations of the evening, after a vast array of door prizes were given out, were the major draws, where Shaina Gadowski's name was drawn for the diamond earrings, Penny Quinney won the coveted Diamond Drillbit necklace, Brenda Miller won a barbecue, Nicole Goertzen a night at Fantasyland Hotel and Tracy Hardes a putter.

Elections Alberta is an independent office of the Legislative Assembly

Third Party Advertising legislation comes into effect September 15th, 2011

Elections Alberta is prepared to implement new provincial legislation that will require Third Party Advertisers to register and to file financial statements with the Chief Electoral Officer. The legislation will also affect contributors to third party advertisers.

The approved amendments revise Alberta's Election Act and Election Finances and Contributions Disclosure Act. New rules will ensure that Albertans are aware of who is posting, and who is paying for, political advertising.

For further information please visit our website at www.elections.ab.ca.

Elections Alberta is an independent office of the Legislative Assembly that provides non-partisan administration of the electoral process.

Generations to be proud of

It was nothing short of amazing to see how many four- and five-generation families were honoured on Sunday at Grandparents' Day.

To qualify for the recognition, representatives of the generations must have remained in the area, and the proud family groups that came forward to accept the honour have done just that.

Some of these families have been here since the community's beginning, but others have come to the area in more recent times, and in both cases, the fact that both the generation that came and their descendants have chosen to make this their home town just reinforces the belief that Elk Point is "the right place to be."

WAY BACK WHEN...

Teaching excellence, tourists increase, top cowboys

HERE'S THE NEWS THAT MADE THE HEADLINES OF THE LAKELAND REVIEW AND THE ELK POINT REVIEW FOR THE WEEK OF SEPT. 13 IN...

1986

Oil company field foreman Marshall Kachmar announced that he would run for town council in the upcoming election, while incumbent Mayor Ed Buck made the decision to run against first-time candidate Byron Mann. Hospitals and Medical Care Minister Marvin Moore addressed the North East Regional Conference of the Alberta Hospitals Association.

1991

Elk Point Elementary School Grade 3 teacher Wayne Hymanyk and F. G. Miller High School' English, language arts and math teacher Ron Onusko were honoured with Excellence in Teaching awards honouring their commitment to encouraging students to learn. The chamber of commerce looked back at a very busy summer when 1,533 tourists from as far away as Germany, Norway, Switzerland and Japan signed in at the tourist information centre.

1996

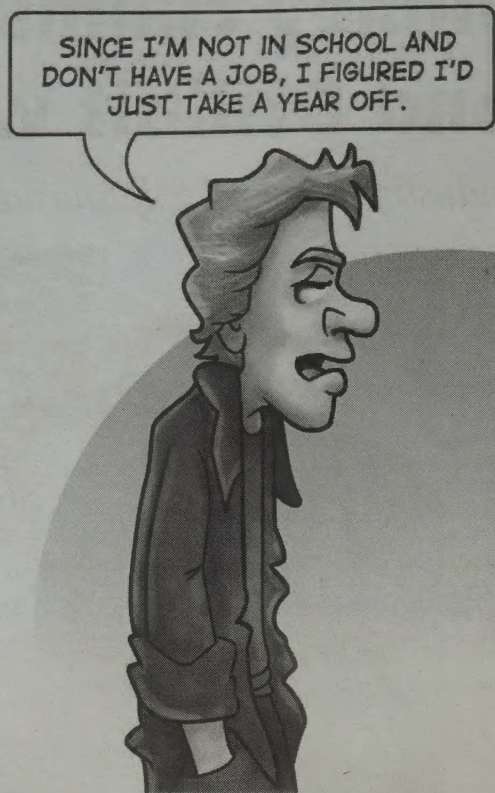

A charming outdoor ceremony on the site of Heisburg's original church united the former Marjorie Robinson and Roy Scott in marriage, with the newlyweds climbing aboard their covered wagon to lead a parade around the community. Tourist information statistics showed only 486 visitors had signed in, a drop of 34 per cent from 1995 and 57 per cent from 1994, with a less dramatic drop in visitation at Fort George and Buckingham House Interpretive Centre, with 2,246 visitors and a 13 per cent drop.

2001

Elk Point father and son, Peter and Matt Veer, walked away from the Lakeland Rodeo Association with an impressive array of hardware, Peter winning the Bill Ullery Memorial trophy for Most Sportsmanlike Cowboy and Matt winning both the calf roping championship and the All Around bronze. The provincial government turned down the town's request for industrial road upgrading money, citing that there was no money available.

2006

Lisa Braga and Darby Brooker were the valedictorians as 19 members of F. G. Miller High School's Class of 2006 went from graduands to graduates with the turn of their mortarboard tassels. With the price established at $385,000 for the exterior shell of the proposed train station, Elk Point Chamber of Commerce was ready to start fundraising, with a change from insulated concrete to conventional frame construction saving approximately $60,000.

GUEST COLUMN

Whatever-ism!

Now that school has been back for about two weeks now, the big question to all our students is: "How is it going?" Just in case the answer some students might give because they really don't want to give us more information is the famous statement: "Whatever!" Oh, that "whatever" attitude!

Tuesday, September 13th is Positive Thinking Day. Today is all about attitude ... a positive attitude. It's a lot like the ant, when faced with moving a rubber tree plant thought "I think I can". The power of positive thinking is absolutely astounding. People with an "I think I can" attitude, are far more likely to succeed at work, and in accomplishing every goal they set in life. Today's quote: "It takes just a moment to change your attitude. And, in that quick moment, you can change your entire day." Author Unknown.

To go along with this Positive Thinking Day and remembering it is all about attitude, guess what the recipe of the day is? From the kitchen of Debbie M. Rochester, she is suggesting we try the "Marshmallow Applesauce Cake Recipe".

- 2 3/4 cups flour
- 2 cups sugar
- 1 1/2 teaspoon baking soda
- 1 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1/2 teaspoon ground cloves
- 1/4 teaspoon baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon allspice
- 1/2 cup shortening
- 2 eggs

deanna EASTHOPE
from the FCSS desk

2 cups unsweetened applesauce
20 large marshmallows
Pre-heat oven to 350 degrees. Sift dry ingredients together. Set aside. In a large bowl, mix together shortening, eggs and applesauce. Add dry ingredients to wet ingredients. Beat until smooth and well blended. Pour batter into a greased and floured 13" X 9" cake pan. Press whole marshmallows into the batter and to the bottom of the pan. The 20 marshmallows are placed four rows of five each. During baking, the marshmallows will melt and rise to the top, make a frosting. Bake for about 50 minutes.

Carrying forward the positive attitude and trying something different like Marshmallow Applesauce Cake, there is another special day arriving this Friday.

Friday, Sept. 16th has seven different focus days. The one I have chosen to mention is "National Play-Doh Day". National Play-Doh Day celebrates a great childhood play toy. Invented in the mid 1950s, it has entertained millions of children, and allowed them to express their creativity, both at home and in the classroom. Play-doh (which was originally intended to be a wallpaper cleaner) was created in 1955 by Joseph McVicker of Kutol Chemicals in Cincinnati, Ohio. His sister-in-law wanted a safe, clay-like product for her nursery school children to use so suggested to Joseph that he change it a bit, add some color and call it play-doh.

The question you are now asking is, why am I interested in Play-Doh? There are two reasons. The first reason is that in some stores which have brought out their Halloween Candy, a small container of "Play-Doh" was being suggested as a Halloween give-away option. I was impressed. The second reason "Play-doh" was on my mind comes from the movie "How Do You Know" with Reese Witherspoon, Owen Wilson, Paul Rudd and Jack Nicholson. In the movie, close to the end, the "play-doh" moment is when it is explained that a small adjustment is all that is needed to make a difference in our lives. Hence, when adjustments are made, the "whatever-ism" in our lives changes. Have a happy Positive Thinking Day everyone!

Grandparents

Grandparents' Day's usual fundraising walk was shortened to a brief but hilarious walk-in-place in the Seniors' Recreation Centre, due to rainfall which brought the hottest week of the summer to an abrupt end. Donations poured in from those who had planned to walk, adding up to a grand total of $7,100, with one-third of that amount, $2,360, going to the Seniors' Centre, another third to help operate Elk Point's Handi Van and the final third to assist the grandparents of Leshotho, Africa who are raising grandchildren orphaned by AIDS.

Peggy Maas once again collected the most pledges, a total of $1,447 to win a gift certificate from Magic Pizza. Stuffed toys donated by Lucille Smith went the youngest boy, 20-month-old Brendan Kadutski, and youngest girl, Alexis Danyluk, aged one month and one day, who was carried up by proud Grandpa Ray to accept her prize.

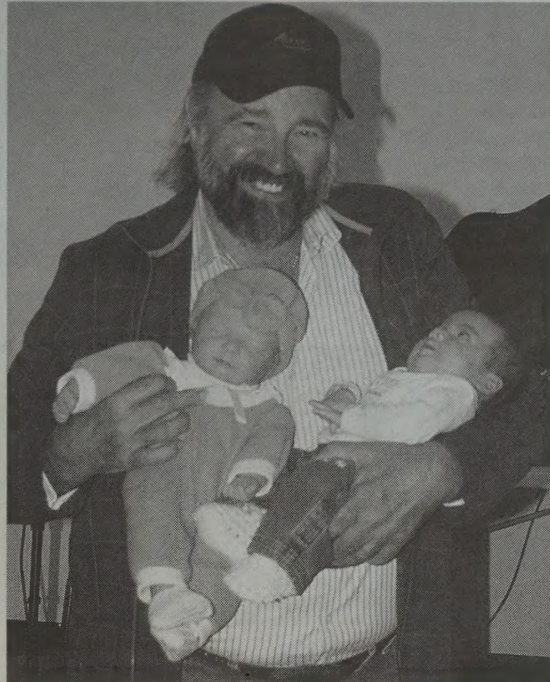

Ralph Reimer was presented with a t-shirt from the Alberta Council on Aging as the oldest man present, while 93-year-old Pearl Anderson received a clock from Elk Point Pharmacy. It was later determined that Kay Coulter was actually the oldest lady present, at 95.

A draw was made from the names of those bringing in $100 or more in pledges, with George Anderson presenting the prize of dinner theatre tickets from Mooswa Holdings to Lori Kadutski.

Instead of the usual poster and story contest at Elk Point Elementary School, students added personal touches to an array of cards that decorated each table for the celebration. The name of one child per grade was drawn to accept a prize. Winners were, with prize sponsors in brackets: Grade 1 – Bronwyn Lazicki (Shane Smith and Family); Grade 2 –

Teaghan Jacobson (Dr. Oyeboode); Grade 3 – Rachel Zacharuk (Bumper to Bumper); Grade 4 – Kailey Wirsta (Lakeland Tire); Grade 5 – Macey Drobot (Allen Warawa) and Grade 6 – Dana Gibson (Ron and Sharon Smith).

Entertainment by the Country Playboys, cake and coffee, and games for the children were also part of the event.

Proud Grandpa Ray Danyluk shows off the latest addition to the family, Alexis Ashley Marie Danyluk, age one month and one day, who won the prize for the youngest girl present at Elk Point's Grandparents' Day celebration.

Contest coordinator Bernice Capjack congratulates Elementary School contest winners Bronwyn Lazicki, Grade 1, (left) and Rachel Zacharuk, Grade 3.

1. Do the records consist of personal information, as that term is defined in section 1(n) of the Act?
2. If the records consist of personal information, does section 17(1) of the Act (disclosure harmful to personal privacy) apply to the records/information?
3. Does section 16(1) of the Act (disclosure harmful to business interests of a third party) apply to the records/information?
4. Does section 32(1) of the Act require the Public Body to disclose the records/information in the public interest?

The Adjudicator will issue an Order under section 72 of the Act. The Adjudicator's delegated authority includes the authority to decide that all or part of the records, including landowners' water well test results, should be disclosed to the Applicant, or made publicly available.

The inquiry currently involves the Applicant, AHW, Alberta Health Services, and Alberta Agriculture and Rural Development (the "Main Parties").

Alberta private landowners and tenants who have submitted water well samples to provincial authorities for testing are invited to participate in the inquiry by making a written submission by the deadline below. The Commissioner's Office has also engaged an independent lawyer (the "Amicus Curiae") to represent the interests of these parties. However, the Amicus Curiae does not actually represent individual parties.

To make a written submission, parties must send seven (7) copies of their submission to the Commissioner's Office, to be received at the address set out below no later than noon on Wednesday, October 5, 2011. As these submissions will be exchanged with the Main Parties and Amicus Curiae, parties must ensure that any personal or other information that they do not want shared is omitted from their submission. If a party does not want all or part of a written submission to be exchanged, the submission must be clearly labeled "For the Adjudicator Only, Not to be Exchanged Among the Parties". However, parties should note that the Adjudicator may still decide to summarize their submission so that the Main Parties and Amicus Curiae understand the general points. For further information, please refer to a longer version of this notice, the copy of the Act, the Inquiry Procedures and Adjudication Practice Notes on the Commissioner's Office website at www.oipc.ab.ca.

Parties and any member of the public interested in attending the inquiry must also telephone or write the Registrar of Inquiries no later than noon on Wednesday, October 5, 2011.

Written submissions, indications of attendance at the inquiry and questions regarding this notice should be directed to: Karen Hesson, Registrar of Inquiries, Office of the Information and Privacy Commissioner, #410, 9925-109 Street NW, Edmonton, Alberta, T5K 2J8, (780) 422-6860 or toll-free in Alberta at 1-888-878-4044. Please quote File #F5460 on all submissions.

FOOD REGULATIONS WORKSHOPS

Get the answers to Agriculture Production / Processing Rules in Alberta

You're invited to participate in two Food Regulations Workshops that will attempt to demystify the rules surrounding food production in Alberta. These forums will shed light on rules and regulations from the various agencies that control food production and inspections. Some items covered are:

1. Who can sell food at the Farmers' Markets?
2. What are the rules for food processed and sold at Farmers' Markets?
3. Can Restaurants & Caterers buy and use Farmers' Market Food Products?
4. What can be sold at the Farm Gate?
5. Who inspects the Production/Processing Facilities?
6. What are the packaging Rules

If you want answers to these questions, then you should attend these training workshops.

High Flying Fun

Elk Point and district Radio Controlled Aircraft enthusiasts hosted their second Fun Fly of the summer on the Labour Day weekend, with a good turnout of both local flyers and those from farther afield. At top right, Bill Harder of Foisy makes some adjustments to his World War I vintage craft; above right, youngsters head onto the landing field for the Candy Drop, at top left, one of the planes comes in for a landing, and above, one of the youngest flyers does some pre-flight adjustments to his modernistic plane.

Help shape the future of your region.

A Comprehensive Regional Infrastructure Sustainability Plan (CRISP) is under development for the Cold Lake Oil Sands Area. The goal of the CRISP is to establish a long-term framework for infrastructure development based on possible future oil sands production rates and associated population growth. A CRISP for the Athabasca Oil Sands Area has been completed and is already being used to help plan development in the region.

The Alberta Government has been working with municipalities, First Nations, Métis, community organizers and business leaders in your community. Now we want to hear from you.

Tree mystery

Tom and Erna Holliday were mystified when they saw red ribbons tied around branches on their backyard apple tree recently. Adjacent to each of the red knots, such as that at the base of the twig at right, was a wrap of what appeared to be rubber. The Hollidays eventually cut off one of the branches, seen above, and unwrapped the rubber, revealing a slit with a bud, presumably from another tree, securely fastened into it, in the form of a graft. The mysterious part is, they cannot find out who implanted the grafts on their trees, or why. If you have any information regarding this unusual gift, the Hollidays would like to hear from you.

Sixty years celebrated at Camp Whitney

By Vicki Brooker
Review Staff

Six decades of summer fun and nurtured faith were celebrated on Saturday, as Camp Whitney United Church Camp celebrated their 60th anniversary with a special service of praise in their charming outdoor chapel, its log-and-lank benches shaded by towering pines.

Rev. Mary Royal, president of the camp board, led the service in "this special place, this holy place... that has meant so much to generations," and bid a warm welcome to "familiar faces from this year and summers past."

Following a call to worship that celebrated those who "built this camp to provide out children an opportunity to explore their relationship with God, with nature and with each other... amid the spruce and poplar, mosquito, loon and black bear..." and an opening prayer, Rev. Royal called some of this year's campers forward to help lead the congregation in old familiar camp songs, such as "Peace Like a River" and "Jesus Loves Me."

Camp board member Jim

Belliveau read from Psalm 100, and commented that its message was certainly fitting to this place, where many a joyful noise has been raised to the Lord.

Rev. Royal gave the second scripture reading, from John 6, regarding Jesus feeding the 5,000 with five loaves of barley bread and two small fish contributed by a young boy, and commented that this had been one of the stories from last year's camp theme, "Be a Hero." "This little boy was one of these. He was selfless and generous. It is our great joy to share these stories with the kids."

The congregation was encouraged to share their memories of camp, with one lady recalling being a cook's helper, others remembering campers unfazed by thunderstorms and being caught in a hailstorm when hiking.

A former treasurer commented on recent changes and additions to the camp and noted that when he had been part of the board, they had questioned the feasibility of continuing the camp's operation. He credited Larry Babcock, Hugh Sangster and Dr. Helen Murray for turning things around, and said the board had sold some of the camp's property across the highway and had successfully fundraised to help pay off a large debt incurred with the building of the kitchen and dining hall. In 1998, the provincial government wanted to buy the property, he noted. "We discussed it, but said 'no, thanks' and it certainly was the right thing to do."

Anita Weaver, another previous treasurer, said the chalets had been framed by "free labour from a correctional instituter."

Tome Kibblethwhite was one of the earliest campers, and said that 60 years ago, "the cabins were not as plush. We brought cloth ticks and someone brought a load of straw to stuff them with," for bunk mattresses. "We had about 30 campers."

Dot Heartwell recalled that 52 years ago, there were six or eight cabins for campers, and one for the nurse. She later sent her own children to the camp, and later still, her grandchildren.

IN MEMORIAM

In Loving Memory of
LORENSEN, Sheila Margaret
June 22, 1938-Sept. 15, 2008

Just a thought of sweet remembrance,
Just a memory fond and true,
Just a token of affection
And a heartache still for you.
More and more each day we miss
you,
Though our thoughts are not revealed,
Little do they know the sorrow
That is within our hearts concealed.
Always remembered and never forgotten,
Ronnie and Family.

Camp Whitney

A junior leader from the 1950s remembered sleeping in a tent beside her charges' cabin and "lathering up kids with Lifebuoy soap," while another former camper remembered that "one of our outings was to walk to the Salt Plant," more than five miles away.

"These are our stories of friendships, and good memories," Rev. Royal commented.

Following a prayer of thanksgiving that called the camp "a great instrument of recruitment where many individuals have been touched by this place that opened the door of faith." The service concluded with more camp songs, including the classic "Kumbya."

The afternoon continued with time to tour the two roomy chalets and the row of cabins, the indoor chapel, the arts and crafts area and canoe shed, as well as the newest additions to the camp, a double-wide trailer funded by CNRL, B & R Eckels and Cenovus that provides a first aid facility and sick bay, a nurse's room, office and sitting room, plus a donated trailer to house the camp director, and a newly built deck that joins the two. A barbecue supper wrapped up the day.

Another crowd favorite was hockey legend Frederick "Chief Running Deer" Sasakamoose, the first Canadian aboriginal player and the first First Nations player in the NHL. After retiring from hockey, he became a band councillor and then chief of Ahtahkakoop Indian reserve in Saskatchewan. He has been involved in the development of sports programs for aboriginal children.

Sasakamoose said the new arena in Frog Lake is a first class facility and it would provide an opportunity for children to participate in sports. People of all ages were soon lined up to collect an autograph.

The celebration was an all day event, beginning with a pancake breakfast and pipe ceremony followed by a flag raising ceremony, the grand march into the arena and guest speeches. After lunch there were dance performances. At 8 p.m. there was a hockey game with the special guests.

"The game is going to be everybody against Bryan Trottier and I still like his chances," said Black during the afternoon speeches.

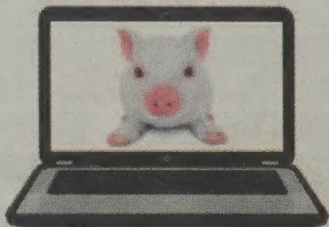

The administration building attached to the arena houses chief and council, administration and finance divisions, economic development, membership, education, youth programs, family services and other offices.

The first place winners of the name the building "Frog Lake New Horizon Centre" and logo contest are Destiny Berland, Jody Dufresne and Dayton Quinney.
